

Business of the Month: Georgetown Hearing Clinic

Celebrating its 25th year of serving the local community, the Georgetown Hearing Clinic has been named Halton Hills Chamber of Commerce Business of the Month for February.

Owner/operator Cory Soal opened the business in 1993 alongside dentist Alex Trenton before moving the offices to the current location at the medical building on Sinclair Avenue.

The clinic offers a full array of services for specific kinds of hearing loss, ear shape and communication needs.

The privately owned hearing aid dispensary's services includes custom moulds, music plugs, sleep plugs, noise-cancelling plugs, phones for the hearing impaired, batteries and accessories.
