Students from Georgetown's Silver Creek Public School, along with a number of schools and workplaces all over Ontario, put on their best pink shirts today in an effort to speak out against bullying.

The theme of this year's Pink Shirt Day campaign is promoting awareness about cyberbullying, and Silver Creek Public School engaged students from Grades 4 through 8 in a talk called Is it true, is it kind, is it you, which focused on the various types of cyberbullying and what to look out for while being actively engaged online.

The Pink Shirt Day

movement first began in Nova Scotia in 2007, when students banded together to stand up for a Grade 9 boy being bullied for wearing a pink shirt. It has since become a movement celebrated across Canada and around the globe.
