Students and staff at Christ the King Secondary School in Georgetown are mourning the death of 16-year-old Joshua Brown, who died Sunday in his home in Acton.

On April 22, shortly before noon, Halton police and ambulance were called to the residence where Brown was found unconscious.

Halton police have not identified Brown, but his brother, Tyler Brown, did confirm the death. Police have not released a cause of death but say that the teen died at the home.

"One of our students has passed away," said Linda Trianta-

Ontario was free of raccoon strain rabies before 2015, when it's believed that a raccoon on a truck from New York brought the disease back. Since that time, rabies rates have spiked across the GTA, including Halton Region, where public health officials received reports of 1,118 animal to human exposures. Since Oct. 4, 2016, 15 raccoons and 11 skunks have tested positive for rabies in Halton. Since the beginning of this year, there have been over 397 cases of raccoon strain rabies across Brant, Haldimand, Halton, Hamilton and Niagara.
