Close to 100 golfers signed up to support the inaugural Georgetown Cystic Fibrosis Dinner and Golf Tournament held Monday at the Club at North Halton, with approximately $10,000 raised.

Organized by the Kinsmen Club of Georgetown, the event had been a fundraising dinner for several years until the golf tournament was added for 2018.

Among the guest golfers were former NHLers Ric Nattress and Gilbert Dionne.

Patricia McLaughlin, regional executive director for central and southwestern Ontario for CF Canada, said that fundraisers such as the one in Georgetown

EAT THIS: Georgetown's Mangia Bene - Eating well on the go

Looking for some Italian cuisine but don't have time to spend an hour or two in a restaurant?

A food truck located at 375 Guelph St. between the Esso gas station and Shoeless Joe's restaurant, Mangia Bene will mark its fifth anniversary in Georgetown in September and its owner, Russell Priola, said the key to building a loyal clientele starts with top-quality ingredients and fresh-made fare.

"I would say 95 per cent of our business is returning customers," said Priola, a master chef trained in Europe who has worked as a chef at luxury hotels in the U.S. and for the Monte Carlo Inn chain in Canada.

"People know what they're getting at reasonable prices. It's nothing extravagant, but it's high quality and people must be happy with it because they keep coming back."

There are several freshly prepared menu options including baked specialties such as lasagna, sandwiches, burgers, salads, pasta dishes and traditional entrees like veal scalloppini and pollo marsala, along with their specialty sandwich, an Italian/Cuban creation called the porcuponetta.

Sous-chef Lisa Lafontaine has a garden on-site for spices and herbs and while they shop locally for most items on the menu, the San Marzano tomatoes are imported from Venice.

Popular with tradespeople in the area looking for a hearty and quick meal, Priola said the catering side of Mangia Bene is also doing well, with several local businesses, especially auto dealerships, ordering in for large group meals.

Mangia Bene is open from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. from Monday to Saturday and from noon to 8 p.m. Sunday.
