CANADA is a multicultural country with 10 provinces and three territories and a population of 35.15 million. The nation has coastlines on three oceans, the Atlantic, Pacific and Arctic and encompasses 9.98 million square kilometres. Canada's southern border with the United States is the world's longest bi-national land border at 8,891 kilometres. The majority of its land is dominated by forest and tundra and the Rocky Mountains. Canada has four seasons, two official languages, a Prime Minister and a Queen. Added all together, it's a nation worth celebrating.
