

Inkwell Montessori School and Georgetown Art Express

Nestled in the heart of downtown Georgetown, Inkwell Montessori School and Georgetown Art Express happily co-exist within the unique and kid-friendly environment of 77 Market Street. The school was founded in 2004, and in 2009 opened its doors at 77 Market Street after substantial upgrades and renovations were undertaken to adapt to its current purpose. Former Director of Visual Arts Mississauga Carole Warfield joined us in 2010 to expand and enhance the Georgetown Art Express program.

Built in 1877 by William Watson, the structure was originally designed and used as a Methodist church. In its lifetime it has enjoyed many and varied incarnations: an Oddfellows hall, a silent movie theatre, several restaurants, and now a Montessori school and art instruction studio. For more information about our Montessori school, please visit the Inkwell Montessori School website.

CASA & Toddler Programs - Dr. Montessori believed that each child has within himself or herself a unique potential that is revealed as the child grows and develops his or her interests. Inkwell offers Montessori programs for children aged 18 months to 6 years.

Inkwell's Art Express Camps-Summer Camps - Ages 4-5, 6-8 & 9-14 years old work in a variety of mediums such as pastels, watercolours, collage, papier mache, acrylics, copper foiling and much much more. Check out GeorgetownArtExpress.com for more info or to register. Come experience art among beautiful surroundings in downtown Georgetown. Our exciting and innovative projects will inspire even the youngest student.

Links by Jane Custom Handcrafted Jewelry

There is no better feeling for Jane than seeing someone wearing one of her jewellery creations at her latest craft show that had been purchased at a previous show!

Owner and designer Jane Myhal of "Links By Jane" has been creating unique jewellery since 2013 and loves working in Halton Hills because it is such a special community. To keep herself current, she has completed a Business Management program at Ryerson University, as well as taken some jewelry making courses at George Brown College.

Silver-plated, brass components, findings, chains, faceted Swarovski crystals, pearls and boldly coloured natural stone cabochons are what help Jane shape, design and make her unique jewellery. Pliers, cement and various metal files help develop her pieces into wearable and unique art all at her kitchen table where the lighting is perfect.

Since she was very young, she draws inspiration from her Mom who wore exquisite statement pieces, either a ring or large pendant around her neck, always something that stood out. She now feels blessed because her daughter Jessica helps her with her craft shows and loves spending this time with her.

For more information on her creations and her next craft show, visit her website.

AdminHeroes is a virtual assistant agency. We offer remote administrative support to growing businesses, entrepreneurs, busy professionals, and individuals who need some extra support with their personal tasks.

So many entrepreneurs, execs and professionals feel the stress or burnout of trying to do it all - especially when they don't have office space, or perhaps don't need full - or even part-time - support. AdminHeroes can bridge that gap. We love supporting growing businesses, helping people find a little more work/life balance while taking things off their plate. We also take pride in offering personal support to busy individuals - parents, entrepreneurs, professionals, etc. Life gets busy and we can help with ordering groceries, meal planning, ordering gifts, and personal calendar management. It's easy to get buried under the never-ending to-do list, whether personal or professional, and AdminHeroes loves to help ease stress and find a little more balance.

Since I grew up in Georgetown and still live here, it's nice to contribute to the community. If we can help local businesses grow and thrive by offering support and organization that they would have otherwise missed out on, that just feels good.

I chose this career because of the positive effects it offers to so many, from our staff to our clients. I believe life is about balance. Unfortunately, most of us enter careers so eager and excited about the possibilities and goals, but we end up putting all of our time and attention into that one thing. Almost everyone has admin tasks on their to-do list that take up valuable time - time that could be spent growing your business, enjoying your family or resting and refueling your mind and body. From an internal business perspective, our staff are mostly working moms with at least 3-years administrative experience who are looking for work/life balance that enables them to be home for their children and schedule their time accordingly. I really love offering women the option to have both by keeping active employment and current skills, and being home for their kids and family.

Halton Hills is growing - and that's wonderful! But, there are still a lot of people who commute out of town for work and/or services. To create local job opportunities, as well as service offerings, is really important.
