warm and loving, he wanted to take care of you."

The pair, who met later in life, formed a blended family with their four children - Vaters' two daughters, and Robynne's two sons Jordan and Nic Spence.

"He embraced all of us as a family," said Nic. "He had a want and the need to see everyone in his life succeeding."

Vaters and wife devoted much of their spare time to renovating a cottage on Riley Lake in Gravenhurst.

"He just loved the cottage," said Robynne. "He had a huge group of friends up there."

Friends like Kelly and Mark Winterburn, who remember themed parties and evenings that Vaters held.

"He made everything fun," she said, remembering how he prepared a miniature theatre setting at the cottage one night to watch videos of the 1972 Summit Series with friends.

Mark and Vaters were always working on projects at each other's properties.

"When I didn't have a good idea, Keith had a better one," Mark said.

Vaters' longtime friend Derek Hedley started working for Asbuilt years ago, and also spent a great deal of time up at the cottage.

"It's like family, the company, really," said Hedley, noting that Vaters would work to keep staff busy during slow seasons in order to keep his staff working full hours.

The Vaters family will continue on Asbuilt Comfort Care.

Vaters died in a utility terrain vehicle accident in Gravenhurst on Sept. 18, 2018. He was 58 years old.
