Keeping Halton roads safe for everyone

Drivers, cyclists and pedestrians all play an important role in keeping our roads and communities safe. Here are some things to remember when using the roads:

- When walking at night, wear bright or light-coloured clothing, use reflective tape and take flashlights to make yourself more visible to drivers.
- Slow down, stay alert and use caution when driving through school zones and residential areas.
- Always watch for young children and cyclists on the road.
- Don't drive distracted. Always finish a call or text before starting to drive.

For more road safety tips, visit halton.ca.
