Nineteen participants put their sewing expertise to good use on Saturday in an effort to keep some hands warm over the coming winter months.

The Sewing Café of Halton Hills held its fourth annual Mitten Marathon on Nov. 10, where members and visitors came out to create pairs of mittens out of old wool sweaters.

Each year, the café teams up with Nancy Moran of Nancy's Upcycled Creations to donate half of the mittens created to local shelters.

The remaining portion is donated to the Salvation Army church.

"It's just fun seeing everyone together and it's nice to be able to give back to the community," Sewing Café co-founder Anna Barkhouse said.

Members of the café surpassed their goal this year, sewing 52 pairs of mittens in total.
