

HEROIN IMPORTER WHO WAS ARRESTED IN GEORGETOWN SENTENCED TO TEN AND A HALF YEARS

A 49-year-old Toronto heroin importer has been sentenced to 10 and a half years in prison following a lengthy trial stemming from a 2016 arrest.

On Nov. 7, 2016, Innocent Annih was arrested at a Georgetown package delivery company for trying to retrieve one of three packages that the Canada Border Services Agency was previously able to intercept. Two of the packages, all sent from India and Malaysia, were on route to Port Perry, Ont.

Halton police says the packages contained a total of 990 grams of heroin concealed in various household items, including purses and children's toys.

On Sept. 28, 2018, Annih was convicted in Superior Court for conspiracy to import heroin, and two counts of attempted possession of heroin for the purpose of trafficking. He was sentenced on Nov. 23.
