

2019 Family Day

FEBRUARY 18, 2019

Family Day games wipe boredom away

Whether family game night is a tradition in your home or not, board games are a great way to connect with your family. This Family Day, take game night to the next level with some of the many board game options suitable for all ages.

By Christine Davis

Kerplunk

Break out this retro classic for a blast from the past. The object is to skilfully remove the sticks from the tube while dropping as few marbles as possible. Recommended for ages 5 plus, it's fun to not let the marbles fall. Available at Canadian Tire, Real Canadian Superstore, Toys "R" Us and Walmart. $19.99

Apples to Apples

Consider this game to be the family-friendly version of Cards Against Humanity. It's a hilarious comparison game where players make crazy combinations and be totally subjective in deciding the outcome. It's suitable for ages 12 plus and is fun for adults to play without the kids too. Available at Indigo, Mastermind, Toys "R" Us and Walmart. $29.99

Blokus

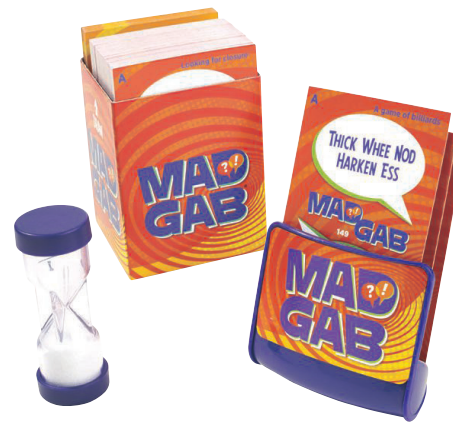

This easy-to-learn game has a 30 minute time limit, which is great for those with a shorter attention span, or it can be repeated for hours of fun.

Suitable for ages 7 plus, the rules of this game are colour-coded and simple. It's fast-paced and the endless possibilities of sequences make it lots of fun. Available at Mastermind, Real Canadian Superstore, Toys "R" Us and Walmart. $29.99

Mad Gab

With this classic game it's not what you say, it's what you hear that matters. Teams have to decipher unrelated words into real phrases before the time's up. Laughter is sure to ensue as strange language is spoken. Suitable for ages 13 plus but another one that adults can enjoy without the kids too. Available at Amazon.ca. $14.99

Squawk

This egg-splusive chicken game features one egg, one rubber chicken and one exploding hen house. Recommended for ages 4 plus, you'll need to roll the dice, press the chicken's chest and hope she lays an egg. The one who collects the most baby chicks wins. Available at Toys "R" Us and Walmart. $29.99
