Residents of Halton Hills have an opportunity to impact local tourism.

The town is accepting applications to sit on the tourism advisory committee after the end of the current committee's term.

"On behalf of all town council, I would like to thank the committee members for their contributions, which have elevated and recognized tourism as an important contributor to Halton Hills' economy," Mayor Rick Bonnette said in a news release. "Their hard work and dedication have made our town a more desirable place to live, work, play and stay, and we will build on this success as we move forward."

The committee was dissolved as of April 16, with a new tourism advisory committee to be selected in late May or early June.

The tourism advisory committee consists of one member of town council and nine citizen and industry members. The group meets quarterly and will make recommendations to council and staff on matters pertaining to tourism initiatives.

The committee ensures the diverse interests of tourism stakeholders from across Halton Hills are met through industry-focused representatives.

Interested residents can apply at haltonhills.ca/committees/JoinCommittees.php. The deadline to apply is 4:30 p.m. on May 23, with interviews by the selection committee to follow. The selection committee will make its recommendations for appointments to council.

Madison Mann is April's carrier of the month. Madison's winning style includes always being very pleasant to Halton Hills residents and eagerly helping out with vacation routes when they come up. She also finds someone to cover her own routes while she's on vacation. Carriers of the month receive a coupon for a large Topper's pizza.
