HALTON HILLS TO HOST CONTROVERSIAL RAW FOOD ADVOCATE

MELANIE HENNESSEY
mhennessey@metroland.com

David "Avocado" Wolfe is coming to Halton Hills.

The well-known American author and product spokesperson, who has almost 13 million followers on social media, is among the speakers lined up for the Health and Wellness Fair at the Croatian Centre on June 1.

The event, which will run from noon to 5 p.m., will focus on natural health practices that target the prevention of disease and the restoration of optimal health.

Wolfe's followers consider him to be one of the world's top authorities on natural health, beauty nutrition, herbalism, chocolate and organic superfoods. He has given over 2,600 live lectures over the past two decades.

The social media sensation has also gained notoriety for his involvement in the anti-vaccine movement and claims that the earth is flat and gravity is toxic, among other things.

During the fair, he will speak about natural ways to combat stress, and allot time for a Q-and-A and book signing.

Joining Wolfe will be Georgetown holistic health practitioner Jeff Martin, who will address natural ways to benefit your thyroid. He will also take a few people from the audience to test how their thyroid is working and speak about ways to improve it. Rounding out the guest speaker list is Loren Valvasori, a wellness coach, fitness trainer, raw food chef and Hippocrates Lifestyle coach. The natural beauty and skin care expert will share her secrets on fasting, detoxification and how to achieve glowing skin using essential oils.

The health fair will feature over 30 local vendors, including skin care, essential oils, superfoods, books, supplements, vegan food, smoothies, clothing, water systems, gem stones and natural dentistry solutions. Mini treatments such as massage, reflexology and a new technology called Seqex that promotes the reduction of inflammation and improves microcirculation will also be offered.

The Croatian Centre is located at 9118 Winston Churchill Blvd. The first 100 people to arrive will receive a stress release essential oil roller ball. Doors open at 11:30 a.m. Tickets cost $10 in advance and $15 at the door each and are available for purchase at davidwolfehealthfair2019.eventbrite.com.
