

Shop locally at Halton's Farmers' Markets

Shopping for locally made foods and goods in Halton is made easy throughout the summer with the many farmers' markets spread across the region.

Acton Farmers' Market

The Acton Farmers' Market is returning this year after two years away in a new location. Now operating in front of Acton Town Hall Centre, the festival is getting entirely reconstructed this year to draw out vendors and visitors. The market is held on Thursdays from 4 to 7 p.m. until Thanksgiving weekend and will have a variety of fresh vegetables, bread, honey and much more.

Burlington Lions Farmers' Market

Operating in Burlington since 1959, the Burlington Lions Farmers' Market has called the Burlington Centre parking lot its home for more than 60 years. The market is operated by the Burlington Nelson Lions Club, with all proceeds associated with its administration returned to the community through the service club. The market sets up on Wednesdays, Fridays and Saturdays through to October 26. For details, visit burlingtonmallfarmersmarket.com.

Dorval Crossing Civitan Farmers' Market

For more than 30 years, the Civitan Club of Oakville has operated the town's longest-running farmers' market in support of community charities. The market operates every Saturday from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. until November 25. For more information, visit oakvillevivitan.ca.

Downtown Georgetown Farmers' Market

Enjoy fresh fruits and vegetables, local honey, syrup and jams, deli meat items, hand-made botanical soaps and lotions, artisans, flowers and much more at the downtown Georgetown Farmers' Market. The market is hosted by the Georgetown Farmers' Market every Saturday morning from 8 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. until Oct. 19.
