A Georgetown man is $100,000 richer after winning with an Instant Super Set for Life ticket.

"I was on my way out of the store when I decided to turn around and go back for a ticket that jumped out at me," David Welburn, a mechanic shop owner, said.

"I was shocked and excited," he said, "and got a lot of high-fives and thumbs up when the store owner and other customers came over to congratulate me."

Welburn said he plans to put his cheque in the bank while he decides what to do with the winnings. Though, he plans to enjoy a lobster dinner as celebration of his win.

"This is a great feeling — everyone dreams of winning," the 80-year-old great-grandfather said.
