

INDEPENDENT AND FREE PRESS OFFICE TO CLOSE, BUT TOP COVERAGE WON'T STOP

IFP WILL CONTINUE PUBLISHING NEWSPAPER WEEKLY, WITH DAILY NEWS AVAILABLE ONLINE

The Independent and Free Press office at the Georgetown Marketplace will be closing. But the community can rest assured that comprehensive coverage of the Halton Hills community will continue.

Our operation is moving towards more flexible working space, prompting the closure.

While the office at 280 Guelph St. is closing effective April 30, the IFP journalists and media consultants will continue to work in the Halton Hills community, where they live. They will maintain and build on the strong relationships forged over the years and continue to serve our readers, customers and clients in the same way you have come to expect.

The IFP will continue to publish Thursdays, bringing readers news from the north Halton community and surrounding area. News and information is also available 24/7 online at www.theifp.ca.

The existing newspaper box, featuring the latest printed copy of the newspaper and weekly flyers, will remain at its current location at the Georgetown Marketplace immediately outside of Unit 77 (southwest corner of the mall adjacent to Halton Region Health Department's @280 clinic).

Readers and advertisers can still reach us by phone at 905-873-0301. However, as a result of the Georgetown office closure, the IFP's business address will change. Mail should be directed to 901 Guelph Line, Burlington, ON, L7R 3N8.
