PLANTING TOGETHER FOR THE FUTURE

Since 1906, Connon Nurseries has been growing, wholesaling and retailing a vast selection of quality plant material and supporting garden products. Over 250 acres of farms in the Waterdown area produce trees, shrubs, evergreens, and perennials that are shipped daily in season to their sales yards located in Waterdown, Trenton, and Newmarket.

Many await the spring season with growing anticipation as it signifies renewal, rejuvenation and the beginnings of life in the garden, landscapes, and nature. While every planting season is welcomed with opened arms, this season in particular, greets everyone with the many positive benefits that plants, gardening and nature can provide.

In the midst of a pandemic, these benefits have never held more importance nor prominence in their ability to provide both physical and mental wellbeing. Plants have long been proven to help reduce levels of stress, anxiety and depression. Their ability to aid in healing and improving overall health has been studied by many over the years with positive outcomes continuously reached. For over a hundred years, landscapers, gardeners and plant enthusiasts have chosen Connon Nurseries as their supplier of plants, and this season the focus is on planting for health, for happiness and for the future.

Whether gardening on a small or large scale, indoors or out, being around plants has been shown to increase productivity, mood, positivity and creativity. In addition, trees and plants within the landscape and communities help to provide clean air, habitats for insects, birds and animals, and help to sustain or even lower temperatures, reducing the impact of climate change. With the many changes that have occurred this spring, the environment and nature provide a beautiful outdoor 'classroom' in which children can be taught the rewards of planting and harvesting their own food. Connon Nurseries is proud to work with many local vegetable and herb growers to provide the starter plants needed to pass this knowledge along from generation to generation. Fruit trees, fruiting bushes and fruiting vines are also available to complete the garden to table movement.

As part of an industry that has always worked to promote growth, happiness, hope and wellbeing, Connon Nurseries is growing happiness this season; one plant, one tree, one garden at a time.
