

ANIMAL TALES

Al Manzer photo

An enclosed tomato garden in the Trafalgar Road and Steeles Avenue area was no barrier for a cotton tail, who set up a nursery for her six babies. Do you have a great local photo you'd like to share? Send it to sleblanc@metroland.com.

ACTIVITY STARTING BACK UP AT ACTON'S HILLSVIEW

MAKE SURE TO KEEP TABS ON WHAT'S HAPPENING AT SENIORS CENTRE, WRITES DAVID MCLEAN

Weather permitting, bring a lawn chair and enjoy your dinner outside the centre.

We do miss our social dinners, Friday lunches and the camaraderie of events at the centre - even the social side of having a coffee and chatting to other people. Slowly things are being re-scheduled, with smaller groups of people participating. Did you know that the reading library is in the entranceway with a selection of books, videos and puzzles for you to borrow? And yes, you can add your loonie to the 50/50 draw. Check at the reception desk.

Supervisor Wendy Krever and administrative assistant Michelle Durham have done an amazing job of keeping us informed and working through some very difficult times. Due to the closure of Hillsview Active Living Centre, the scheduled annual general meeting was cancelled and all members were given the opportunity to vote via email for two amendments to the constitution and three two-year term board positions.

Sue Vallance will be reception chair (was member at large) and Joyce Farmer will be program chair (second term). The funding chair and vice-president positions are still vacant. If either of these positions interest you, or you would like more information, contact Heather Beaumont, volunteer co-ordinator, at 905-873-2600, ext. 2282, or heath-erb@haltonhills.ca
