YOU ASK, WE'LL TRY OUR BEST TO GET THE ANSWER

WALK IN A JOURNALIST'S SHOES AND ASK YOUR BURNING QUESTIONS, WRITES KAREN MICELI

It's about trust. Our relationship with our readers is built on transparency, honesty and integrity.

As such, we have launched a trust initiative to tell you who we are and how and why we do what we do. This column is part of that project.

There's more than one way to tell a story and that's something you may have noticed in our presentation of the news both online and in print.

In our Metroland newsrooms we call it alternative story forms (ASFs) — where instead of the usual way of writing a story we provide the information in another format.

A list is one example. If there is a large event or issue happening, we may tell you about it in a list of 'things to know.'

It's designed to give you the details in a more direct, summarized way — to help you consume the news quickly in this fast-paced world.

Stories presented in ASFs are often popular reads and have proven to engage readers.

With that in mind, we have decided to re-introduce an ASF we have used in the past.

It's 'You Asked,' where you, the reader, can walk in a journalist's shoes and pose your burning questions to us. We will in turn tap into our network of sources to try to get the answer.

Questions should be community-based. Maybe you are wondering about what the Town's plans are for that open space down the street. Maybe you have a COVID-19-related question. Maybe you are unsure how to safely dispose of those unwanted items in your garage.

Every submission will be reviewed. Those chosen and successfully answered will be published on TheIFP.ca, as well as in our print edition where space permits.

Send your questions to newsroom@theifp.ca. Karen Miceli is managing editor of the Georgetown/Acton Independent and Free Press. We welcome your questions and value your comments. Email our trust committee at trust@metroland.com.

KRAUSEMORRIS Pajama Drive

For most children, bedtime is a time of comfort, love and security. A time when children crave closeness with their Moms and Dads, a few minutes of bonding and sharing in a safe, secure environment. Bedtime can also be a fun and exciting time when children can put on their favourite pajamas featuring their beloved favourite character from their favourite tv show.

But for some children in Halton Hills, a good night in cozy pajamas is a luxury. This year our friends and neighbours in Georgetown need our help more than ever. We as a community need to ensure that NO CHILD GOES WITHOUT!

Krause Morris would like to invite you to participate in our First Annual Pajama Drive. Pajamas need to be new and can be dropped off at the Remax office at 23 Mountainview Road S. If you prefer, please feel free to email or text us and we would be more than happy to do a porch pick-up for you. All pajamas will be donated to Links2Care along with a $25 Walmart gift card purchased by our real estate family for each child.

Thank you...your donation means the world to a child in need!
