ADULT LEARNING NORTH HALTON NOW A NORTHSTAR TESTING SITE

Adult Learning North Halton (ALNH) has partnered with Northstar Digital Literacy Assessment, and is now one of its official testing locations.

ALNH offers two levels in its Computer Skills for Work (CSW) program, which are aimed at helping adults acquire the essential digital skills needed in today's workplace.

The Northstar Digital Literacy Assessment is now used as part of the initial program intake process, and again at the end of the training.

"Technology is changing how work is performed and what skills employers are seeking," stated the most recent annual employer survey from the Peel Halton Workforce Development Group. "Employers emphasized the importance of computer skills and the ability to work with new technologies."

"Digital literacy is one of the most valuable tools for lifelong learning and skills building for employment."

Northstar Digital Literacy Assessment modules are based on a set of basic computer competency benchmarks developed by a diverse group of literacy providers, business representatives and non-profit agencies.

They include essential computer skills (basic computer skills, internet basics, using email, Windows and Mac OS), essential software skills (Word, Excel and PowerPoint) and using technology in daily life (social media, information literacy and creative job searching).

During training, students may take the Northstar module assessments on the ALNH Testing Location webpage to measure their progress and identify the areas they need to continue to work on.

Upon completion of the CSW program, learners may then obtain a Northstar Digital Literacy Certificate by successfully completing a proctored assessment.
