

Join us for the
60 John Street Virtual Open House
 March 31, 2021, from 6:30 to 8 p.m. via Zoom

The Town of Halton Hills is seeking public input on a proposal for a five-story apartment building at 60 John Street, Georgetown. The owner of the property is currently seeking permission for medium to high density residential uses on the property, combined with the two vacant properties.

An Open House is being held on Wednesday, March 31, 2021 to seek public input on the development proposal. Due to COVID-19 restrictions, the Open House will be held virtually and online registration is required via the 60 John St. project page on Let's Talk Halton Hills. Town staff will provide a presentation on the status of appeal on the property and land use permissions in the context of the surrounding area. Information on the proposed concepts for the property will also be presented, followed by a question and answer period.

A previous Open House for a similar proposal took place in February of 2012. The property owner has previously filed an appeal Zoning By-law 2010-0050 (the Comprehensive Zoning By-law). These appeals remain in effect, and no planning applications have been filed with the Town to date.

Register for the Virtual Open House by visiting the 60 John Street project page on letstalkhaltonhills.ca.

If you or someone you know requires alternate engagement options or materials, please contact planning staff directly by calling 905-873-2600, x2900 or via email at planning@haltonhills.ca. Questions and concerns can also be directed to the above contact. If you are unable to attend, feedback on the proposal can be provided to khamilton@haltonhills.ca.

COVID-19 vaccine clinics across Halton have welcomed eligible residents in the past week.

The region's first clinic to open, on March 6, was at Georgetown's Gellert Community Centre (10241 Eighth Line), while Burlington now has clinics at Joseph Brant Hospital's pandemic response unit and at Compass Point Bible Church (1500 Kerns Rd.). The Oakville clinic is located at St. Volodymyr Cultural Centre (1280 Dundas St. W.).

The Milton clinic was last to open, doing so Tuesday (Mar. 16) at FirstOntario Arts Centre Milton (1010 Main St. E.).

As for the weekly COVID-19 cases, the region's
