NOTICE OF PROPOSED SETTLEMENT IN CPRI CLASS ACTION

To all persons who were admitted to the Child and Parent Resource Institute (CPRI) during the period from September 1, 1963, until July 1, 2011 exclusive of any time for which an individual was an inpatient and resided in the Glenhurst or Pratten 1 units, and who were alive as of February 22, 2014.

A proposed settlement has been reached between the parties. While no admission of liability is made and none of the allegations have been proven, this settlement, if approved, will make compensation available to class members who allege they suffered certain sexual assaults or physical assaults while admitted to CPRI.

If you opted out of the class action, the settlement will not impact you.

There will be an online court hearing on June 23, 2021 to decide whether the proposed settlement of the lawsuit should be approved. The hearing will take place virtually.

Compensation to Class Members is not yet available. If the court approves the settlement and you are part of the lawsuit as a Class Member, you can then make a claim for compensation.

To obtain further information, please visit <https://cpriclassaction.ca> or contact Epiq at 1-866-640-9989, or by email at info@cpriclassaction.ca.

The lawyers acting for the class are Koskie Minsky LLP. You may also contact Koskie Minsky LLP at 1-844-819-8523 or by email at cpriclassaction@kmlaw.ca.

If you approve of the settlement and want it to proceed so you can claim money, you do not need to take any steps. If you want to object to the settlement, you must send an objection to Epiq by May 26, 2021.

The battle against COVID-19 has gone from bad to worse.

With new cases spiking in Halton and the entire province, more COVID-19 restrictions have been introduced by Ontario Premier Doug Ford.

"We are on our heels but if we dig in, remain steadfast, we can turn this around," he said during the April 16 press conference.

The new measures include extending the declaration of emergency and stay-at-home order by two weeks, for a total of six weeks.

amenities such as golf courses, soccer fields and basketball courts, will be closed.

Other restrictions include: limiting in-person grocery shopping to 25 per cent capacity and capping places of worship to a maximum of 10 people indoors.

As for the weekly COVID-19 cases, the region's website shows that from April 9 to April 15 there were 1,105 new cases in Halton, up from 824 the previous week. Five more residents have died from the virus.

As of April 16, the number of active cases stood at 1,045, including 103 in Halton Hills, 373 in Milton, 350 in Oakville and 219 in Burlington. There have been 13,089 COVID-19 cases in Halton during the pandemic, with 11,838 marked as resolved and 206 deaths.
