REGION MAKES CHANGES TO VACCINE BOOKING SYSTEM

MELANIE HENNESSEY

Halton Public Health has added some new functions to its COVID-19 vaccine booking system.

Local residents can now book or reschedule their second dose appointments online, provided they received their first dose in Ontario, with most people still having to wait four months between first and second doses.

Appointments can now also be cancelled virtually, instead of calling Access Halton at 311.

Cancellations will then quickly become available in the booking system for residents to claim as last-minute or same-day appointments.

function, which I think will go a long way in supporting increased vaccine rates in Halton," said Halton Medical Officer of Health Dr. Hamidah Meghani during the most recent regional council meeting.

She noted the new booking system features will give residents the ability to manage their appointments better, and likely result in reduced call volumes for Access Halton going forward.

In other vaccine news, the region's top doctor also told councillors that dose intervals are being shortened for some groups, meaning they don't have to wait four months for their second vaccine and can start booking appointments on May 21.

Per directions from the Ontario government, these groups include: high-priority health-care workers, designated essential caregivers of those living in seniors' congregate settings and all Indigenous people (and a household member).

"According to the province, these groups face a greater risk of contracting and suffering serious illness from COVID-19," said Meghani.
