

HILLSVIEW ACTON REOPENING SLOW BUT STEADY

HERE'S HOPING FOR MORE PROGRAM STARTUPS IN THE WEEKS HEAD, WRITES DAVID MCLEAN

Here we are in mid-August and the weather has been either too hot or rainy.

Just like the weather, each day bringing something different, so too are things constantly changing at Hillsvie Acton.

We have been able to re-start some programs under COVID restrictions, and more are on the way come September — provided we keep going in the right direction.

Our fundraising events have been well received. The Aug. 9 Swiss Chalet dinner was great; we even had a few members brave the heat and enjoy their meal outside.

The wine fundraiser in connection with Konzelmann Estate Winery was a great success. Thank you to those who supported this event. Here's hoping for a second event in October or November, as we get closer to the holiday season.

On a sad note, Jane McAllister died on July 23. She had moved to North Bay to live with her daughter when she became ill several years ago.

Jane was the co-ordinator of the program committee for many years, helping organize the very popular spring and fall fashion shows and the birthday teas, and helped with fundraising events at the centre.

She was also on the Hillsvie Acton board for many years. We would like to offer our condolences to Ian and the family.

Members and friends hope to place leaves in memory of both Jane and Connie Fix (who died suddenly at Christmastime) on our new Tree of Hope. It is a beautiful design and duplicates the original one that was designed and painted by Marie Salley; this is a more permanent one made of metal.

Watch for continued updates from the centre and the newsletter coming out in September.

In closing, I wish to thank our members and the community for their continued support as we work through these restrictive times.

As always: stay safe, healthy, and call a friend.
