Introducing Oticon More™, a hearing aid designed to support how your brain naturally works, allowing you to experience the full sound scene in all its richness.

Polaris™ is Oticon's most advanced microchip ever. Its groundbreaking technology uses the intelligent capabilities of a Deep Neural Network, trained with 12 million real-life sound scenes and mimics the way the brain learns from experience.

As a result, Oticon More has learned to recognize all types of sounds across varying listening environments. With improved processing power and speed provided by the Polaris™ chip, Oticon More gives you the most natural hearing experience yet.
