Here's a weekly roundup of COVID-19 cases and news.

WEEKLY ROUNDUP: VACCINE PASSPORT SYSTEM COMES INTO EFFECT

The provincially mandated COVID-19 vaccine passport system is now in effect,

This means residents are required to provide proof of vaccination receipt to access non-essential businesses, as well as certain facilities run by Halton municipalities — with some exceptions.

Burlington Mayor Marianne Meed Ward said that the proof of vaccination requirement aligns and adheres to the Provincial Enhanced Certificate (EVC) policy.

"Our municipal policy will help give program users and visitors to our facilities and spaces the peace of mind that they are entering a safe place and one that has their health and safety top of mind. I ask for everyone's patience, particularly in the early days of the implementation of the EVC policy and plan your time ahead accordingly," she said in a media release.

Similar enforcement is also in place in Milton, Oakville and Halton Hills.

As for the weekly COVID-19 cases, the region's website shows that from Sept. 10 to 16 there were 182 new cases, slightly up from the previous week. Two more deaths were recorded — one in Burlington and another in Oakville.

As of Sept. 17, the number of active COVID-19 cases stood at 160 — with 65 cases in Burlington, 43 in Oakville, 42 in Milton, and 10 in Halton Hills. There have been 19,171 cases of COVID-19 during the pandemic, with 18,770 marked as resolved and 241 total deaths.
