The Walk or Run for Georgetown Hospital is back as a virtual event for the second year in a row.

The annual fundraiser will be held Sunday, Sept. 26 and will take on a special meaning this year.

"This year's event is a celebration of local health care and will be raising funds for urgent equipment needs such as surgical equipment at Georgetown Hospital," said Sandra Taylor, executive director of the Georgetown Hospital Foundation.

Participants can register as individuals or teams and can select one of four routes listed on the event's website, or complete a route of their choice. There are both three- and five-kilometre options.

Registration is $35 for adults and $15 for children under 12. Each participant will receive an event T-shirt as well as a goodie bag.

A virtual warm-up will be held at 9 a.m. Following the walk/run, participants can go online at 11:30 a.m. for a virtual finish-line festival with prize draws, announcements and presentations.

"We believe it is our responsibility to help our communities not only survive, but thrive in the wake of COVID-19 and everything that has happened in the last 18 months," said Rosel George, community manager, Halton Hills for RBC, the event's presenting sponsor. "Georgetown Hospital is an integral part of our community and we are happy to support this event and celebrate local health care.
