The 'Re-emergence' art exhibit is currently on display at the library's Helson Gallery.

LOCAL ARTISTS FEATURED IN GALLERY EXHIBIT

The Helson Gallery has a new exhibition, 'Re-emergence', featuring local artists. The exhibit will display the work of local painters, photographers and creatives. It examines how artists have nurtured their creativity and found inspiration over the past year.

'Re-emergence' features 50 works, many of which are available for purchase.

The exhibit continues until Nov. 14.

Also, a display of works by the Halton Hills Plein Air Painters is on display in the Sisnett Lobby until Oct. 10. The group meets every Thursday from spring to late fall to paint in a Halton Hills area park.

The exhibit includes their paintings of local scenery, with many being offered for sale.

"Artists and creatives of all types help make our community culturally vibrant and the Helson Gallery and Sisnett Lobby afford them an excellent venue to show and sell their work," said Mayor Rick Bonnette.

The Helson Gallery is located at 9 Church St. in Georgetown, and is open Wednesday to Sunday from 1 to 5 p.m. Masks and physical distancing are required when visiting the gallery.
