YEAR IN REVIEW

The Town of Halton Hills remains one of the hottest regions in the GTA housing market. For all the good, bad and ugly stemming from pandemic conditions, price growth has stayed strong with the overall median price increase of +22% from 2021 real estate values. With so much attention from buyers and investors, the ever-pressing question is how the market will perform in the coming months and year. Can we expect continued growth in property prices, or will things slow down? Do you think there is a large price correction coming? Let's talk.
