

Graham Paine/Metroland

"Being a floral business that brings colour into people's homes, we have received an immense amount of positive feedback. The local community has told us numerous times how they "feel good supporting local businesses" and that they feel refreshed having flowers delivered to their doorstep."

— Asim Alam

Roland Cilliers/Metroland

"I've been entirely remote for work, so all Zoom and Google meets. I've onboarded employees at my workplace who I've never met in person. There's no question my connection to people has gone down since the pandemic. I don't have that same water cooler chat thing."

— Jamie Lemon
