

Nathalie Trepanier

"I've always loved the outdoors. (As an adult) I got so busy working that I never tapped into that. I met someone from the Halton Outdoor Club. I've been cycling, cross-country skiing, hiking and snowshoeing. It (pandemic) showed me it's OK to go out and do things."

— Nathalie Trepanier

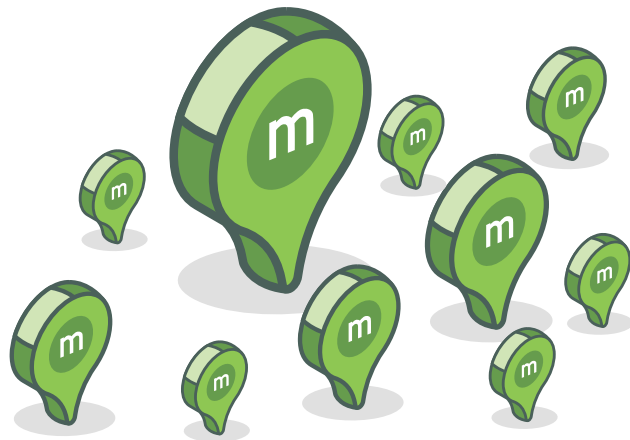

Herb Garbutt/Metroland

"I know of three or four backyard rinks just on our street. Not knowing when things would open up, we wanted to make sure our kids could get out and skate. And with home schooling, we wanted to give them a chance to get off the tablets."

— Dave Wallace
