NEWS

HALTON MAINTAINS TOP CREDIT RATING

Halton has earned another feather in its financial cap.

Moody's Investors Service has once again awarded its highest credit rating to Halton Region.

The company's report indicated a stable outlook for the years to come and praised Halton's ability to achieve positive results despite external pressures, such as the COVID-19 pandemic.

The region has maintained its top credit rating from Moody's Investors Service for the last 34 years.

"Our strong financial position is essential to our successful recovery from the economic impacts of COVID-19," said regional chair Gary Carr.

"We are proud to have preserved our top credit rating while continuing to provide essential public health services and keeping property taxes low. This distinction will also support our long-term critical investments in infrastructure and our ongoing plans to maintain a high quality of life for our growing community."

The rating provides Halton and its local municipalities with continued access to the best capital financing rates available, which helps public funds go further, minimizes the long-term costs of large-scale construction and allows the region to deliver maximum value for taxpayers when investing in major public works projects.

Moody's report highlighted a variety of Halton's credit strengths as the rationale for their decision, including:

- Low levels of debt, given a preference for pay-as-you-go financing for capital instead of issuing external debt;
- Strong governance and management, including forward-looking operating and capital planning;
- A strong capacity for meeting fiscal targets from a robust and growing economy and prudent and forward-looking fiscal planning.
