NEW HOSPITAL COO APPOINTED

Halton Healthcare has appointed a new chief operating officer for the Georgetown Hospital.

Monica Bettazzoni, who has been with Halton Healthcare for 10 years, will also be the director for the Georgetown Hospital family practice program.

Bettazzoni was previously the program manager for mental health, central intake and self-management programs. In that role, she led and expanded the in-patient and outpatient mental health services in Halton Hills, Milton and Oakville, ensuring patient access to appropriate levels of support, care and programming.

"I am looking forward to my new role at Georgetown Hospital and engaging with the residents and businesses in the Halton Hills area," Bettazzoni said. "Part of my mandate will be to support the planning that is underway to replace the current hospital and ensure that we have a facility that will meet the health-care needs of the growing communities of Halton Hills."

Bettazzoni replaces Cindy McDonell, who had been the hospital's COO since the Georgetown Hospital transferred to Halton Healthcare from William Osler Health Centre in 2006. McDonell became the senior vice-president of clinical operations.

"Monica is a humble and thoughtful leader who has well-established internal and external relationships and will be a valuable addition to Georgetown Hospital and the Halton Healthcare senior leadership team," said Denise Hardenne, president and CEO of Halton Healthcare.
