The evening began with a presentation about Project Search by Community Living North Halton, a reading from the Halton Hills Public Li-

"CFNH wanted to shine a light on our grant recipients and show how the Community Foundation works with all charities in Halton North to elevate philanthropy in Milton and Halton Hills," said board member Darryl Demille.

Guest speaker Lisa Raitt, who was caught in Washington because of a flight cancellation, joined by Zoom, talking about her involvement with You Quest and her commitment to CFNH. She also spoke about her personal experience with Alzheimer's disease and her husband Bruce living with early onset Alzheimer's.

CFNH is managed by a volunteer board of directors with representatives from across north Halton. Community foundations are locally-run, public foundations that play a key role in supporting community groups.

"The Community Foundation of Halton North's vision is to grant back into the communities which make up North Halton and I am thrilled that the foundation is now in its eighth year of fulfilling its mission," said CFNH chair Brad Clements.
