OBITUARIES

TURNER, Pierce Clyde
January 26, 1930 -
September 29, 2022

Pierce Clyde Turner passed away at Markham Stouffville Hospital at the ripe age of 92. Born in Happy Adventure, a seaside fishing village on the Eastport Peninsula in Newfoundland, Clyde relocated to Toronto to pursue engineering. Fishing wasn't his jam and they didn't have electricity at the time in the tiny village. His specialty was broadcast technology rising to the role of President of Larcam Communications, a broadcast transmitter manufacturer spin-off of General Electric. He travelled frequently with his job and enjoyed entertaining his family upon his return with his legendary slide shows of photos taken while abroad.

He met the love of his life Diane at the Sunnyside Beach, partied at the Palais Royale and were married in 1957.

Clyde is predeceased by his wife Diane (nee Polin) his sisters Gertie Hancock, Martha Porter and brother Tom. He is survived by his sister Eva Monroe, and his four sons and (spouses) Steve (Susan), Scott (Dawn), Bob (George), Mike (Thom), five grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. He will be missed.

He was an active Freemason of the Walker-Friendship Lodge #321. He loved sailing on Belwood Lake, being better than his sons at golf and was a handy carpenter.

He lived in Georgetown with his family for 55 years and loved walking to the local McDonald's for morning coffee with his buddy Keith.
