

It may be worthless as a cleaner, but we'll give you $100* for your old vacuum.

Even when they're running fine, portable vacuums have their problems. Like bumping into every piece of furniture they can find. And hanging on around every corner. Then there's the stair climb event.

But the real problem is that the initial suction power is quickly lost as the bag fills. So after all the work you put into vacuuming, you still find dirt.

There must be a better way! A Beam central vacuuming system solves these problems and costs much less than you'd think. Often less than a portable!

And to prove it, we'll give you $100 for your old machine when you buy your new Beam. So see Haltalarm today.

Opti-mrs donation helps food bank

Georgetown Opti-Mrs. donated $215 worth of food to Love-In-Christ Food Bank Wednesday. Accepting the generous donation was Anna Rodd (right), vice-president of the food bank. Shiela Ward (left), a food bank supporter and Opti-Mrs., along with Diane Hesse, president of Opti-Mrs. handed over the food.

The Love-In-Christ Food Bank received a helping hand from the Georgetown Opti-Mrs. last week.

Diane Hesse handed over about $215 worth of both baby and adult food as the food bank prepared to open its doors Wednesday.

The local food bank has suffered a double blow as a result of the current economic recession — a decrease in donation and a dramatic increase in the number of families needing assistance.

In an interview in June, Laura Ellison, director of Love-In-Christ said that since the charity organization opened its doors in April of 1990 the number of families depending on the food bank has increased from 28 to over 900.

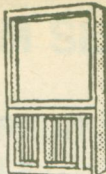

Love-In-Christ Food Bank operates out of Mountainview Baptist Church.
