

Final Meeting Scheduled for October 21

Halton-Peel MP Garth Turner has announced an additional, and final, public meeting regarding the Oct. 26 referendum proposals to change Canada's constitution.

The meeting comes after one held earlier this month which drew almost 200 people.

"Obviously voters want more information and an opportunity to ask questions about the referendum issue," Turner said. "I was struck by the fact that scores of people at the last Georgetown meeting could not even get in the door.

"Everyone should have an opportunity to be part of this process, and to have their voices heard. I'd urge anyone who was unable to speak up previously to come and participate."

Turner will have held 12 such meetings by the referendum date, in addition to visiting voting age students in nine secondary schools.

The Georgetown meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m., Wednesday, Oct. 21, at the North Halton Golf Club on Maple Avenue at Trafalgar Road.
