Court battle looms over condominiums

condo unit owner Nick Bos met to try and resolve their differences.

In late October, town council authorized administrative staff to release the $15,000 security pending receipt of a letter from Williams' and Bos' letter indicating that they were happy with the repairs.

Bos, through his lawyer, has expressed his satisfaction and has no objection to having the funds released to the contractors who completed the remedial work. However, Williams said he has "dropped" his lawyer and he isn't satisfied with the repairs.

The video at council showed mushrooms coming through the new asphalt, a newly-created drainage problem and a new, but crooked, retaining wall. "I'm in this for the long haul," Williams warned council while demanding that the work be done properly.

He also indicated that he wants compensation for the monies that he has spent in his three-year battle to get the building and its site up to standard.

"Someone has to pay me the money," he said during Tuesday's interview. "I'll bow my head and take the real estate loss but I want the money I've spent to have this building put in proper shape," he added.

The Town of Halton Hills urges you during the upcoming holiday season to...

Reduce

- Avoid unnecessary packaging.
- The amount of paper/tape you use to wrap gifts or wrap them in something "different."
- The amount of "throw away" materials you purchase, i.e. purchase in bulk and purchase re-fillables.

Re-Use

- Re-use your old wrapping paper and ribbons.
- Don't throw out gift boxes - they make ideal storage containers or can be used next year.
- Re-use the shopping bags you carry your goodies home in.

Recycle

- Use your Blue Box for newspapers, tins and glass bottles, magazines and P.E.T. plastic bottles.
- Think about purchasing a composter, from the Town...makes a great Christmas gift!
- Take advantage of the Town's Christmas Tree Recycling Program (Jan. 11, 1993)

Remember, it only works if we all do our part!!
