Library suggests magazine subscriptions for Christmas

It can often be difficult to find the perfect gift to give a child no matter what the age.

The Halton Hills Public Libraries suggests giving them a subscription to a children's magazine. This would be a lasting gift that is entertaining, educational and fun. There are some ideas based on the library's collection.

Preschoolers, ages 2-6 years will enjoy Ladybug, from the publishers of Cricket and Sesame Street, filled with educational stories and puzzles and the ever-popular Sesame Street characters.

Your Big Backyard is published by the National Wildlife Federation and feature stories, games and bright pictures all about animals for young children, 3-5 years. An ideal first magazine.

For your school-age nature enthusiasts you may wish to consider National Geographic World, Ranger Rick, or Owl (also available in French - Hibou).

Kid City is a younger version of 3-2-1- Contact offering a wide variety of articles your 6-9 year old will enjoy. Cricket is a "Reader's Digest" for kids, 6-14 years. A terrific choice for eight year olds and up who have an interest in sports is Sports Illustrated For Kids which features articles on favorite sports figures, sporting tips and kids to look for that are coming up in the sporting world.

You might like to see a copy of the magazine before making your selection, so drop by the children's area of either Branch Library and browse.
