JOY program seeks volunteers

Joy! Joy! Joy! This isn't the left-over Christmas spirit. It is a program that operates all year round. "JOY" stands for Joining Old and Young and the opportunities are endless.

St. Joseph's Separate School is looking for volunteers to help teachers in the classroom and to help individual students with projects, reading, etc. Call Brenda Ryan, 853-3730.

M.Z. Bennett School is looking for seniors to play euchre, crokinole and other games once a month with students. These games play a valuable role in developing their skills. Call Willy, 853-0530.

The TEAM Education Program is always looking for more "Grandmas" to help with the teenage mom's children.

This is a valuable support for the children and the young Mothers. This is week-day afternoons from 1-4 at the Baptist Church.

ASSIC is developing a "JOY" list of volunteers that will help with special events.

Why get involved?

What could be more rewarding than a two year old's smile when he sees you or a student that can count because you have been playing a game with him.

A child who is anxious to read with you provides a feeling guaranteed to take away all the January blues.

Come Share The "JOY"! Call a School or Acton Social Services and Information Centre, 852-3310.

Getting ready to "Lighten up"

This year, about 25 communities, including many in Ontario as well as some in Canada's western provinces, will be participating in the event. All that's required is that people start off their day by putting on a red nose.

"Start the day off with a nose and coffee," Carpenter suggested. Some people wear a nose at home, others walk or drive to work or school with large, bulbous noses and some sport them at their workplace. It's all in the name of good, clean fun.

The event isn't a fund-raiser. "It has no ulterior motives; it's just for fun," Carpenter said.

The noses can be bought for 49 cents (plus tax) at a number of local stores, including The Paper Factory, in Georgetown, and the IGA, Canadian Tire and Entertainment Tonight, in Acton.

According to Carpenter, the timing of the event couldn't be better. "We sure need to be lightened up in February. We just need something to laugh at."
