Police beat

Rural break-ins

Police at 11 Division are continuing their investigation into a pair of rural house entries they believe may have been committed by the same culprits.

The first break and enter took place Monday between 7:45 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. at a house on the Tenth Line.

One or more suspects entered the house after the front door was pried open. Once inside the culprits removed a pair of RCA televisions.

The following day, between 8:45 a.m. and 1 p.m., a pair of suspects entered a house on the Fourth Line through an insecure rear door. The culprits went through the house before removing a camcorder, VCR and CD player.

The stolen property from the two homes was worth more than $2,600.

Child injured

A seven-year-old Georgetown girl suffered minor burns to her hands after an explosive device was set off Sunday morning.

According to police, the child was searching through a closet at a house on 27 Sideroad near Trafalgar Rd. when she found one of three "Thunderflash" explosives.

One of the devices was accidentally set off causing the burns which were treated at Georgetown and District Memorial Hospital, police said.

Police described the "Thunderflash" as a "large fire-cracker" used by the military as a noisemaker that is not intended to cause damage.

Police said the other explosives were turned over to a member of the Explosive Disposal Unit and were later destroyed.

Generator stolen

A 250-pound tool box and a 125-pound generator were removed from a construction site on Maple Ave. west of Trafalgar Rd. sometime last weekend.

Halton Regional Police, believe at least two people were involved in the theft. The equipment was worth an estimated $4,000. The investigation continues.
