

Job Finding Club encourages the job search

By Wendy Long

Everybody knows the job market is tough out there. For those that are unemployed, the market may seem non-existent. But help may be a phone call and three-week course away.

Take Kevin Moore, for example. Moore, 28, was laid off 15 months ago from a career in purchasing and retail. A session with the Georgetown Job Finding Club in October helped Moore hone his interview and resume skills and feel better about the job search.

"I had maybe five interviews in all of last year," Moore said while revisiting the Job Finding Club Wednesday morning. "I've had seven or eight this year alone, since January."

The Job Finding Club is a no-charge program funded by Employment Canada to help unemployed citizens learn critical job search skills. It is a three week time commitment, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday to Friday.

The program is facilitated by project manager Linda Brasz and counsellor Dianne Susin. Brasz is a former constituency assistant for a member of provincial parliament. They encourage participants to tap the hidden job market using several techniques and teach a host of interview and on-paper skills. Guest speakers from various industries are invited to address the class and share their insight during each three week session.

The club has been operating in Georgetown for about a year and a half (alternating between Georgetown and Orangeville) at 328 Guelph Street, in the Countrywide Realty building. The program runs in specific sessions. The next Georgetown sessions are from March 8 to April 2 and from May 3 to May 28. Interested citizens are encouraged to attend the information meeting and pre-register with the club as a maximum of 12 are accepted per session.

DISCOVER YOUR DENTURE THERAPIST

Dentures are by far the most abused prosthetic aid. They are forever being mixed up with old sets, worn ill matched, broken and then stuck together incorrectly, worn in two or three pieces, flushed down toilets, lost at sea, and even eaten by dogs!

The emergence of the Denture Therapist has meant a closer and more individual concept of patient/professional relationship. With this individual attention, fewer dentures will end up in the bottom of the drawer.

For many years, Denture Therapists have been licensed to serve you DIRECTLY. We are the only profession that spends 100% of our day specializing in the fabrication of dentures. We make new dentures, clean, relines and repair old dentures, as well as counsel denture patients about various denture problems. We make everything from start to finish in our own lab that is located right on the premises. There is no "middle man" that can boost costs. We work directly with the patient, and every stage of denture construction is explained. Special attention is given to the type of teeth used, as well as the specific color and shape that's right for you. Every detail is discussed between the patient and Denture Therapist. The result is a custom cosmetic denture, that both patient and Denture Therapist are proud of.

If you have any questions regarding dentures, contact our office.
