Charity game Sunday

Georgetown Memorial Hospital and the Cystic Fibrosis foundation will be the beneficiaries of Sunday's exhibition hockey game between the Toronto NHL Oldtimers and the Legiskaters, headed by North Halton MPP Noel Duignan.

Scheduled for 3 pm at Georgetown's Gordon Alcott Memorial Arena, the game is sponsored by the Georgetown Hockey Heritage Council and the Georgetown Kinsmen Club.

The Toronto NHL Oldtimers squad is made up of Toronto-area players and hockey supporters who take to the ice for the love of the game.

The lineup will feature former Toronto Maple Leaf's bad-boy Carl Brewer and includes Ivan Irwin, who played for New York Rangers and Pete Conacher, who toiled for Chicago and New York Rangers of the NHL and also saw action in the minor pro ranks with Hershey.

Former St. Mikes junior Neil Buchanan will put in an appearance, as will Blaine Smith, son of former Leafs great Sid Smith.

Bob Menard, who played for London Knights and saw time in the Quebec junior loop will also lace-up the blades, with brother Howie Menard (namesake of the NHL Hall-of-Famer) who played for Chicago, Los Angeles, Detroit and Oakland of the NHL.

Tom Dallimore, a former junior player with London Knights is expected to put in an appearance, as is Bob McNeil who skated with Fort Wayne Comets and also played European hockey.

Former Cleveland Barons player Bo Elik is expected and the team will be coached by Ron Hurst who saw NHL playing time with Toronto and Pittsburgh.

Minor Novice Raiders blanked by Dundas in semi-final game

The Minor Novice Raiders traveled to Dundas on Feb. 18 for their third game in the semi-final series.

The junior Raiders had hoped to tie their opponents for points, but Dundas poured it on and the Georgetown squad suffered an 8-0 loss. The Raiders appeared tired and Dundas played strong.

Dundas managed to out-shoot the Minor Novice Raiders, but goalie Al Humberstone came up with a couple of great glove saves and stopped plenty of shots. The Junior Raiders couldn't pull their offence together to gain momentum.

The minor novice Raiders need their sticks and skates smokin' to put Dundas out and move on to next series.
