

Organic growing seminar held

On March 10, Wastewise held an Organic Growing Seminar. The seminar was organized by Bill Wray and Jennifer Duff, two students working at Wastewise through the Environmental Youth Corps program.

The first speaker, Susan Moore from the Oakville Pesticides Action Group, spoke to almost 30 people. Her talk began by warning the audience about the dangers of pesticides. She said that pesticides can often cause cancer, sterility in men, digestive problems and birth defects. She also stressed the exceptionally high dangers of people, especially children, coming in contact with lawns that have been freshly sprayed with pesticides.

She suggested that proper lawn care will take care of most insect and weed problems. She urged the use of compost as fertilizer, aeration of the soil, and urged people not to cut their lawns shorter than 2.5". Her talk was met with much interest and several specific questions.

Cathy Hansen was the next speaker. As a member of Canadian Organic Growers, she exercises her knowledge of organic growing at Bernway Farms. She stressed that organic growing is a frame of mind achieved by realizing that the farmer is part of the ecosystem on a farm.

As methods to help growing, she suggested crop rotation, cover crops, and companion planting. She also urged the audience to take care to plant at the proper times of the season to deter insects and diseases.

Easter movie

"Jesus", the most authentic motion picture ever produced about the life of Christ will be shown Palm Sunday, April 4, 5:00 p.m., at the Hornby Community Centre, Steeles Ave. at Trafalgar Rd., just off the 401.

It will also be shown at Maple Avenue Baptist Church earlier in the day at 2:30 p.m. A nursery will be provided for children up to four years of age at the Maple Avenue location.

Initially distributed by Warner Brothers, "Jesus" was filmed entirely on location in Palestine. All of its dialogue is taken directly from the New Testament Gospel of Luke. Grace Baptist Church is sponsoring this free video showing.

"Jesus" has also been translated into over 170 different languages. Jack Valenti, president of the Motion Picture Association of America, said that "Jesus" is the most translated film in the history of the motion picture industry. More than 425 million people in 166 countries have already watched "Jesus".
