Bob Creasy is the hands-on owner of Knechtel Georgetown Food Market located at Moore Park Plaza and both Bob and his employees take pride in the quality of the store's meat. In fact, overall quality in terms of products and service to the customers, is the store's motto. HHTW photo

Knechtel stresses quality

Bob Creasy, owner and operator of Knechtel Georgetown Food Market, will be celebrating his 5th anniversary this June.

The grocery store, located in Moore Park Plaza, at 68 Main St., is part of a 62-store franchise. It is operated by Oshawa Foods, which has its head office in Kitchener.

Business is going well for the Georgetown man. Creasy attributes his success to his friendly, helpful staff. "We pride ourselves on our quality service," he said.

Over 30 people work at the store, many of them part-timers, who quickly adjust to the realization that quality products along with quality service go hand-in-hand when dealing with the public.

He adds that Knechtel has a particularly "high quality" meat department.

Members and guests at Georgetown Branch 120 Royal Canadian Legion will attest to this claim, as Knechtel's meats are the prime attraction at the branch's weekly meat draw.

Creasy's pride in this department may be based on his supervising position in the meat department of a competing food store chain - a position he held before purchasing Knechtel.

Creasy similarly praises the in-store deli, and the bakery. "We bake fresh bread every day. We also bake fresh buns and pastries."

Creasy's wife, Patricia, also works at the market. They each put in over 60 hours of work a week to guarantee that everything is running smoothly.

Knechtel is open Monday to Friday, 8:00 am. to 9:00 pm.; Saturday, 8:00 am. to 6:00 pm. and Sunday 12:00 pm. to 5:00 pm.
