Aqua Ducks churn the waters

Last Saturday the sun was shining, the birds were singing and most people, young and old, were outside enjoying the day.

Not the Acton Aqua Ducks Swim Club. They were inside a hot and muggy pool in Mississauga trying to improve their times at a competitive swim meet.

A productive weekend was had by all.

Jaime MacDonald, Gareth Lichty, Julie Pliotas and Kara MacDonald broke 13 club records. Nick Pliotas, Roshini Kassie, Mike Lenizky, Sylvia Bragg-Smith, Sarah Vingoe and Stacey Moore all swam personal best times.

Coach Gerry Ockenden said he was pleased with the club's performance, but now they have a lot of hard work ahead to get ready for the provincial team championships to be held in Ottawa April 23, 24 and 25.

Loreto makes All-Canadian team

By Colin Gibson

Former Georgetown Chrysler Raiders Junior B player, Charles "Chuck" Loreto, has capped his Mount Allison Mounties university hockey career in fine style, being named to the Canadian Interuniversity Athletic Union's (CIAU) 1992-93 All-Canadian team.

The Mountie captain led all scorers in the MacAdam Division of the Atlantic Universities Athletic Association (AUAA) netting 18 goals and collecting 33 assists in just 26 games.

The Timmins native led the Mounties in scoring two of his four years with the team and joined a very select group of Mount Allison players who scored over 100 points during their AUAA career. In his four-year playing career, Loreto garnered 127 points on 57 goals and 70 assists.

He is only the third Mountie player (joining former school greats Ross Yates and Johnny Annear) to be selected to the CIAU All-Canadian team.

Loreto's banner 1992-93 campaign included being selected to the AUAA all-star team and being named the MacAdam Division's nominee for the national Sportsmanship Award.

The 23-year-old will graduate with a Bachelor of Commerce degree in May and is a free agent as far as professional hockey is concerned.

He hopes to remain in the game and is looking to test the professional waters either in North America or in Italy.

Spring means Rebel baseball

By Mike Zrostek

As with many teams in high school sports, the Georgetown District High School Rebels boys baseball team finds itself undergoing something of a transition period because of the loss of players to graduation.

Last year's team, which lost a close game in the league semi-finals, was a veteran team. This year's squad will sport a number of new faces, featuring only four or five returning players.

Fred Kotani, one of the coaches, is counting on players from various backgrounds to form the '93 team.

"We have many boy's from the junior grades trying out, the players returning from last year and some who play on the local rep team, who we hope will bolster the club," said Kotani.

Kotani describes the team as having many good athletes that should mesh with leadership coming from veteran players, Adam Poyntz and Greg Dobbin.

If there is a source of concern for the Rebels, Kotani says, it's in the pitching depth of the team.

"We have a couple of first year guys (Derek Ellard and Trevor Elinesky) trying out for pitching spots on the team," said Kotani.

Overall Kotani thinks the Rebel team should be competitive in their division this year.

The Rebels play an eight-game schedule and have a tournament in May at Loyola High School.
