Acton Display stolen

Police Beat

A display for a "Home Show" was stolen from the Old Hyde House in Acton. The display, valued at $4,300, was not noticed missing until the end of March. There are no witnesses or suspects.

thieves confined themselves to the master bedroom. Police are still investigating.

Vandalism

The owner of a red Chevrolet Celebrity, parked at the Georgetown GO station on April 1, returned to find a window shattered and the front right panel smashed and dented. Police are looking for suspects.

Surprise party

An 18-year-old Glen Williams youth received a surprise April 9 when the party he was hosting for 10 guests turned into a bash of over 100. A navigation instrument worth $1,200 was stolen. The investigation continues.

Three-fold charges

A 22-year-old Acton man was charged and released after police discovered he was driving with a two-time suspended license, with plates registered to another car, and without insurance.

Purse stolen

A Georgetown lady who left her car unlocked and her purse tucked under her seat last Sunday night, returned a-half-hour later to find her purse gone, along with $480 which was inside. There were no witnesses or suspects.

Police car vandalized

Police have no suspects or witnesses in an incident where a wheel of a police cruiser was slashed. An 11 Division police officer was conducting a bar check at Raves Bar in Georgetown last Saturday night when the incident occurred.

$600 damage

Royce Auto Service in Halton Hills sustained $600 damage Wednesday night when an unidentified suspect threw a planter through the front door window. There was no sign of entry.

Charged with assault

A 26 year-old Georgetown man was charged with assault after he pushed and grabbed his girlfriend, who was trying to end their relationship. The incident occurred April 4.

Impaired

A 32-year-old Georgetown man was charged with impaired driving and being over the legal limit April 6. The man, who was stopped on 8th Line, north of 15 Side Road in Halton Hills, was driving with a suspended license.

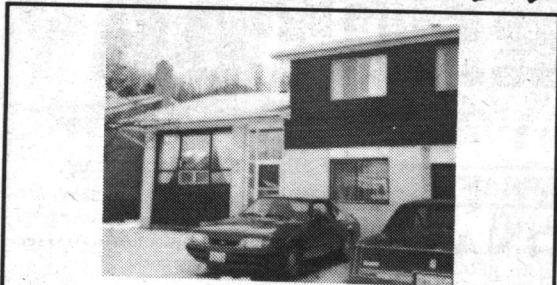

False accusation

A 16 year-old Georgetown girl returned home last Wednesday evening, claiming that a male had attempted to drag her into his vehicle. Police were called and after an investigation, determined that the accusations were false. The girl has been charged with public mischief.

Cash and jewelry stolen

Thieves made off with $1,200 cash and $850 worth of jewelry from a Georgetown home, sometime between April 5-8. There was no sign of forcible entry, and the
