Park school 'Clowns' around

These days, there seems to be plenty of clowning around at Georgetown's Park Public School as teachers and students move into the final rehearsals for their upcoming production of "Clowns".

This delightful play is about a group of clowns who are searching the world for the meaning of life. By combining songs, with dance and laughter, the characters learn that the true meaning of life comes from within oneself.

According to Rick Nodwell,

Principal of Park Public School, "Because of the relatively small size of our school, every student is participating in the play — as a member of the cast, choir or through their individual classes."

To further encourage participation in the production, students from all grades designed unique "promotional" posters which will be displayed throughout the school prior to and during the performances.

The three-performance production kicks off with a matinee at 1:15 Monday followed by two evening performances Tuesday and Wednesday starting at 7 p.m.

It goes to show that clowning around can be educational!

Career van

The Career Explorer - a mobile career and job search centre - will be opening in Georgetown this Tuesday through Thursday and from April 27 to May 6. The unit will be located in the parking lot of Georgetown Marketplace.

The Career Explorer offers free assistance to adults who would like to explore training and career options or who would like help with their job search. The staff will assist clients with developing resumes, preparing for interviews and researching job leads.

The unit also provides access to the Canada Employment Centre's Job Bank - a computerized list of jobs available. The resource library includes college and university calendars, career descriptions and forecasts, business directories and job search guides. Interest tests to determine career directions are also available.

The Career Explorer is open 10 - 2 on Mondays and Fridays, 10 - 5 on Tuesdays and Wednesdays, and 10 - 8 on Thursdays. The Career Explorer is sponsored by local Canada Employment Centres and implemented by The Peel Board of Education.
