Little Caesars Pizza invades Georgetown

By Colin Gibson

For the second time in a little over a month, Little Caesars Pizza has invaded Georgetown. This time, the occupation is permanent.

The 1993 Georgetown Bantam International Hockey Tournament went into the record books on March 21 and Detroit Little Caesars - sponsored by the U.S.-based carry-out pizza giant - romped to an 8-2 win over Rideau-St. Lawrence Kings in the Grand Championship game, then scurried across the border with the championship silverware.

Tuesday, Little Caesars Pizza opened a carry-out restaurant at 211 Guelph St. in the Northview Plaza in Georgetown, (across from Canadian Tire) and was welcomed with open arms.

Town of Halton Hills Mayor Russ Miller presided over the official opening and Little Caesars management responded in kind by making a $200 donation to the Georgetown Unit of the Canadian Cancer Society.

Little Caesars bills itself as the "world's largest carry-out pizza chain" and has the numbers to back up the claim.

Based in Detroit, Michigan Little Caesars has more than 4,500 restaurants in Canada, outlets in 50 states in the U.S. and restaurants in England and Puerto Rico.

"We are very excited about the opening of our carry-out restaurant in Georgetown," said Russ Samson, Little Caesars marketing director. "We look forward to building a strong relationship with the residents of Georgetown, as well as providing them with a great meal at a great price."

The new Little Caesars is open seven days a week, 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. Monday through Thursday and from 11 a.m. until 12 midnight Fridays and Saturdays.

Two pizzas of varying sizes are offered for one price on a regular basis and there are additional weekly specials.

Salads, Caesars Sandwiches, slices, chocolate ravioli, Crazy Sauce and soft drinks are also on the menu.

Little Caesars uses 100 per cent natural ingredients and the flour used is made from the best high-gluten spring wheat. Dough is made fresh every day on the premises.

An all-natural blend of two kinds of cheeses is blended with sauce made from the finest California tomatoes. A secret blend of fresh spices tops every pizza.

This friendly invasion is sure to be accepted by food lovers throughout Halton Hills.
