

Enjoy the Unique Ambiance of

by Margaret Vint

It seems like a very short month since the last Downtown page, but here we are again!

We've just heard that on Saturday, May 15th at 2 p.m. at Oxbow Books, Wendy Thomas, author of 'Ontario Gardeners' Resource Guide: An Indispensable Guide to Gardening Information,' will be signing copies of her book. A great opportunity to get some gardening tips first hand.

On Sunday, May 30th, come rain or shine, you can ride along with Mayor Miller in the Halton Hills Bike-a-Thon. Pledge sheets for the ride are now available. Funds collected will be used to support various services of the North Halton Association for the Developmentally Handicapped. For more information call the N.H.A.D.H. Office at 873-8181. This would be a good time to check your bike for safety and please remember that while the use of helmets is not mandatory, wearing one is a good practice to follow.

You may recall how pretty the Downtown looked last year, with the addition of banners on the Main Street and barrels of flowers throughout the area. We really appreciated all the help we received from our merchants and staff who planted the flowers; those who ensured they had lots of T.L.C. all season; Mr. DiGirolamo (DiGirolamo Nurseries, 8th Line) who donated an abundance of plants and flowers and Lyn Moray (Village Shoppe) who encouraged her husband Doug (Daltons (1834) Limited, Toronto) to donate the barrels. By the way, Doug, we heard about your 'unexpected' surgery. Our best wishes for a speedy recovery.

Currently, we are in the process of making arrangements for this year's summer beautification programme and are planning to add more banners. It may be necessary to retain some of the existing floral baskets due to budget restraints.

Perhaps many of you are not aware that all of the street decorations in the downtown core, as well as their maintenance, installation and removal each season, are funded by the B.I.A. businesses through a special levy. Also, we have just fulfilled our commitment to the town for a loan which partially funded the major improvements completed in the early eighties. These included the Award winning photographer Lou Pinto can tell you that dreams do come true.

The year was 1986 when Lou decided to make photography his full-time career. After studying at Sheridan College for two years, Lou wasted no time in landing his first job as photographer/manager of a local studio.

Two years passed and Lou felt it was time to go out on his own and try some of his own ideas. Lou worked out of his home for two years, focusing mainly on wedding and on location portraits.

Realizing the demand for studio portraiture, Lou opened up Pinto Photography Studio at 98 Main St. in beautiful Downtown Georgetown - the very location he dreamed of back in '86.

When asked "Why photography?" Lou says: "I feel photography is very special because it keeps the memories alive for future generations to enjoy. I came across a poem not too long ago which pretty well sums up what photography is all about. I hope you enjoy it..."
